APPLIED means you Practice

- Founded by Olympians, the idea of daily practice is central to this leadership training. As opposed to being theoretical, participants put to practical use every tool & exercise over 12 weeks. And they do it in-real-time, in real situations. Your job is the training ground.
- It sticks! The sum total of a lot of simple, practical tools & exercises delivered over time isn't little – it is HUGE!
- It is totally comprehensive! Graduates leave with a robust repertoire of tools to use the rest of their leadership path.
- This isn't a nice-to-have; this is a must-have. Your investment doesn't end after 12 weeks because it is the ongoing practice of applying and combining the traits that leads to high-performance leadership.

It WORKS! Here is what our Graduates discovered:

"I have new tools and perspectives to do my work as a leader. The approach was easy to comprehend, absorb, apply, and maintain. Amazing. I loved all of it. I feel rejuvenated as a leader in a complex work environment."

"It increased my self-awareness, adaptability and resilience. Helped me to understand what I need to focus on to build high performing teams."

"Gave me the confidence in myself to be able to effectively lead my team."

Integration:

Beyond the Corporate Champions Program

This is the Program that keeps on giving. Through the fundamental learning journey - the High-Performance Pathway - participants leave with a vast repertoire of tools they can continue to practice and perfect on the job long after the course work is over. The 12-week investment returns on itself many times over as the traits get applied over time, the more powerful they become.

Where it all began

Working together in the year leading up to the 1992 Barcelona Olympics, synchronized swimming coach Debbie Muir and national team swimmer Mark Tewksbury would not only push the boundaries of convention and possibility, they would shock the world with a come-from-behind victory in the 100 meter backstroke. Post-games, Debbie and Mark asked themselves, "What did we do that transcended our individual sports and was fundamental to success?" That was the beginning of the Great Traits and to this day, Great Traits training is still built on the idea that the stronger your foundation is, the higher your performance will be.
